Nunez Recognizes Faculty And Staff At Convocation 2021

Nunez Community College honored standout faculty and staff members from departments across the college at its annual Convocation program Aug. 9 in Chalmette.

Convocation signals the beginning of the academic year at Nunez, when full-time faculty and staff convene on campus to discuss plans and priorities. The theme for Convocation 2021 was Living Our Values.

"Our Convocation is a special time of coming together. Following a challenging year of being distanced from our colleagues and students, we were excited to begin Fall 2021 with our annual convening of employees and community partners," said Nunez Chancellor Dr. Tina Tinney. "Nunez is fortunate to have the support of its community and commitment of our faculty and staff to offer valuable post-secondary training and educational access across our region."

Nunez was pleased to welcome several special guests to its Chalmette campus for Convocation 2021. Ronnie Slone, president and founder of The Slone Group, delivered the keynote address. Gay Parvazi of presenting sponsor UNO Federal Credit Union offered financial tips to faculty and staff.

A high point during each Convocation is the recognition of employees with various awards presented by Dr. Tinney. The Outstanding Professional Staff Member Award winner, Outstanding Professional Support Staff Member Award winner and the GEM (Great Employee Moments) Awards winners are all selected via peer nominations and voting. ## St. Bernard Sheriff's Office Tax Millage Continuation

In 2013, the voters of St. Bernard Parish approved a millage tax (15 mills) for the purpose of providing additional funding for the St. Bernard Sheriff's Office. This millage is set to expire in 2023, Sheriff James Pohlmann said.

On Oct. 9, 2021, the Sheriff's Office will seek a continuation of that millage to provide a portion of the funds needed to preserve the efficient operation of the office.

"It's important for residents to understand this is not a new tax," Sheriff Pohlmann said. "The continuation of this millage will allow us to keep receiving necessary funding resources that are imperative to our ability to keep St. Bernard safe."

In addition to funding salaries and necessary equipment such as

Remembering U.S. Service Members Killed in Kabul Attack

This week's terrorist attack at the Kabul airport is heartbreaking, and I express my deepest sympathies and prayers to the service members killed as well as their families. As our hearts are heavy, there is also tremendous anger that this disgraceful attack was avoidable, and this loss of life should have never happened.

I would like to offer my deepest sympathies and prayers to the military families who lost a loved one this week. We are all praying for the Americans still stranded behind enemy lines in Afghanistan. We also pray for the Afghan people and for the safety of our brave men and women in uniform who are heroically serving in Afghanistan right now under incredibly difficult conditions.

As the leader of the free world, President Biden should have never agreed to the Taliban's withdrawal deadline of August 31st, especially considering there are still roughly 1,000 Americans who are stranded behind enemy lines. This was a predictable and self-inflicted disaster and would have never happened if the President did not allow the Taliban to take control of Afghanistan before every American had safely evacuated. Now more than ever, President Biden must commit to safely bring home every remaining American still stranded in Afghanistan.

It is an honor to represent you in Congress. For more information please visit my website, Twitter, Instagram, and Facebook pages.

God Bless,
Steve Scalise, House Republican Whip

APCIA: Contact Your Insurer if You Have Property Damage from Hurricane Ida

If your home or business experienced flood, wind, or other damage, contact your insurer as soon as possible to file your claim, recommends the American Property Casualty Insurance Association (APCIA).

"We know many are currently without power and the full extent of Hurricane Ida's devastation will become clearer in the coming days. Insurers stand ready to help policyholders following Hurricane Ida's landfall on Sunday and help get them on the road to recovery. Insurers can be contacted through their toll-free claims number, app, website, or by text to report the damage and file your claim," said Jeff Brewer, Department Vice President for Public Affairs, APCIA. "To help with the claims process, make an inventory of what was lost or damaged and keep any receipts for materials you purchase to assist with repairs."

Damage associated with wind and other severe weather is typically covered under a standard homeowners, renters, or business policy. Property owners with flood damage need to contact their flood insurer to file a flood-related claim. Water damage to a vehicle is typically covered under an auto policy if the policyholder has chosen to purchase comprehensive physical damage coverage.

Many standard homeowners and renters policies provide reimbursement of additional living expenses when the property is determined to be uninhabitable due to damage. This provision helps pay for things like temporary housing, restaurant meals, overnight parking, and laundry service. Check with your insurer or agent for a list of what your policy will cover.

"After the storm, watch out for dishonest contractors and third parties who often go door to door looking to scam homeowners in need of repairs. Before signing any contracts for repair work, talk to your insurer first to make sure the damage is covered and then find a licensed, reputable contractor to do the work," added Brewer.

WHAT TO DO IF YOUR HOME IS DAMAGED

- Contact your insurer as soon as possible to report the damage. If possible, have your policy number ready. If you are evacuated, you do not need to wait until you can return home before starting your claim. You can contact your insurer while evacuated to begin the claims process.
- Photograph or videotape the damage to share with your insurer and keep a copy for your records.
- Make temporary repairs if it is safe to do so. If there are holes in your roof or your windows are broken, be sure to cover them as quickly as possible to prevent further damage.
- Save receipts for any materials you purchase to assist with repairs. You may submit them to your insurer for reimbursement.

- Do not throw away any damaged items until an adjuster visits your home. Many insurers are utilizing a variety of virtual solutions to keep the claims process safe and efficient. You may collaborate with an adjuster via a video call instead of in-person.

WHAT TO DO IF YOUR HOME IS FLOODED

- Shovel or scrape mud off floors, furniture, and walls before the mud dries. Then hose down the walls with clean water, starting from the ceiling.
- Major appliances, such as refrigerators and stoves, can be washed and dried completely. In most cases, they will not be damaged unless they were operating at the time the water covered them.
- Diluted chlorine bleach can be used to clean household items, appliances, walls, and floors and will help control odors.
- Wood furniture should be dried outdoors, but not in direct sunlight. Remove drawers and other moving parts before they dry.
- Food utensils and equipment should be washed thoroughly and sterilized before using. Any food that is open and exposed to flood waters should be discarded.

WHAT TO DO IF YOUR VEHICLE IS FLOODED

- Be cautious about starting a vehicle that has been exposed to flood waters, and if your vehicle is missing report it to the police.
- If the water got above the floorboards, or the seats are wet, do not try to start the car. The electrical system is the most sensitive to water damage and trying to start the car could cause more damage.
- Open the hood and check the air filter. If it is wet, do not try to start the car.
- Report the loss to your auto insurer and protect the car from further damage by covering any broken windows. Water damage to a vehicle is typically covered under an auto policy if the policyholder has chosen to purchase comprehensive physical damage coverage.

motor vehicles and their related costs, the Sheriff said, the millage has allowed the Sheriff's Office to purchase and deploy body cameras for deputies and patrol cars, special operations and rescue vehicles.

It also has allowed for the continued growth and maintenance of automated license plate readers, which are located at the parish lines and in key areas throughout the jurisdiction.

The Sheriff said funding for these technology tools is crucial for fighting crime in our parish and remaining one of the areas with the lowest violent crime and overall crime rate in the New Orleans metropolitan area.

"As violent crime has soared throughout the region, the St. Bernard Sheriff's Office has used these funds collected to avoid crime spikes in St. Bernard and enhance our ability to not only deploy an appropriate number of well-trained deputies, but also provide them with the tools and equipment necessary to ensure the continued safety of our residents," Sheriff Pohlmann said.

Sheriff Pohlmann thanks the citizens of St. Bernard Parish for their continued support.

Bertha Acosta Alonzo, brother Ronald James Alonzo, Sr. and cousin Carlos Alonzo.

Joy was a long-time employee of the St. Bernard Parish School Board working for over 30 years at various schools in the Special Education program. She impacted so many youth, because she showed them compassion and kindness. She was loved by her students and co-workers alike.

Joy always wore a smile, loved to laugh, was kind hearted, upbeat and found the positive side of every situation. She never met a stranger and loved to talk to everyone. Joy loved to attend mass, travel, sing and dance. Joy's greatest role of all was being the best "Mimi" to her granddaughter Kylie, who was her pride and joy.

The Guidroz Family would like to extend a special thanks to the caring employees of Park Provence Senior Living Center in Slidell who provided wonderful care to Joy over the last two years.
